Full steam ahead for back to school deadlines

Our team has been working flat out, including weekends, to stay on track with a demanding schedule. With the school summer holidays coming to an end, we're in the final stages of delivering a wide range of essential upgrades across many schools in the South East. These works include LED lighting upgrades, new fire alarm systems, and modern door access installations, each one crucial for improving safety, efficiency, and security before the new term begins.

It's been a real team effort, and we're proud of the progress made so far. With deadlines fast approaching, we remain focused on ensuring every site is completed to the highest standard and ready to welcome staff and students back without disruption.

Platform Upgrade Completed Under Pressure

A few members of the JNS team have recently been working in Rainham, Essex, carrying out essential upgrades on one of the stations platforms. The project involved the removal of old, rotten decking, levelling the existing substructure, and installing 100 square metres of new anti-slip decking.

With the platform closed during the works, the pressure was on to deliver the job efficiently and on time to minimise disruption to commuters. Thanks to the team's focus and hard work, the upgrade was completed within the tight schedule—ensuring a safer and more durable surface for rail users.

Bringing New Life to a Weathered Property in Kent

We recently took on a challenging exterior refresh at a large property in Kent. The building had been heavily weathered over time, with dirt and grime covering the pavements, entrance areas, and platforms. The doors and windows were faded and peeling, and the metal railings had certainly seen better days.

Our team professionally cleaned, treated, and freshly painted the property to bring it back to life. The result is a clean, bright, and welcoming exterior that makes a great first impression. It was a messy job—but exactly the kind of transformation we thrive on.

Prize to be won !!!

We're Back at the Kent Construction Expo!
Our simple ball game from last year's stand was a huge hit, with many visitors having a go. The overall winner received a lovely hamper filled with wonderful gifts. Throughout September, the game will be set up at our office, and everyone is welcome to come by and try their luck. We'll be sharing updates on our social media and will reveal the final winner after the Expo in October—so keep an eye out!

After a great experience last year, we're excited to return to the Kent Construction Expo at the Kent Event Centre in Detling. This year, you'll find us at Stand G-25 on Thursday 2nd October.

Come by to meet the team and see what JNS Electrical & Building Services has to offer—we'd love to catch up and connect!
