ELECTRICAL INSTALLTIONS

Panelling- Gillingham

This month, our carpentry team completed beautiful panelling work at a residential property in Gillingham, Kent. The project featured a combination of classic dado style panelling and clean, shaker style designs in the bedrooms. Both timeless choices that add depth, texture, and a sense of elegance to any interior. With the panelling now complete, the rooms are prepped and ready for our decorators to apply the finishing touches.

Whether it's a single feature wall or a full home transformation, we offer tailored panelling solutions to suit all styles and budgets. Our team handles every stage with precision, from design and installation through to painting. Ensuring a high-quality finish that elevates any space.

First fix electrics- Aylesford, Maidstone

Our electrical team has begun work on a large extension project at a residential property in Maidstone. We're handling the full electrical installation, with the first fix already completed. A clean, well-planned first fix is critical to the success of any electrical job. It lays the groundwork for everything that follows — ensuring that cables, back boxes, and infrastructure are correctly positioned and protected before walls are plastered and finishes are applied. A tidy first fix not only saves time during the second fix but also reduces the risk of issues later in the build. Our team will return for the second fix once the structure is ready, where we'll be fitting sockets, switches, lighting, and other final elements to complete the system.

Kitchen installation- Dartford

We recently designed and built a new kitchen at a commercial property in Dartford, providing a practical and comfortable space for staff to prepare refreshments, store food, and take breaks throughout the day.

As the premises is in constant use, the project needed to be turned around quickly with minimal disruption to the business. Working to a set budget, our team delivered a smart, functional solution — managing everything from design to installation to ensure the space met the everyday needs of the team.

Garage conversion- Headcorn

Work is underway on another residential garage conversion, this time in Headcorn, Kent. For many homeowners, garage spaces often go unused or become a storage area for forgotten items — but they hold great potential for practical and stylish living. At JNS, we've transformed countless garages into fully functional spaces such as home offices, guest bedrooms, utility rooms, and even purpose-built rooms for side businesses like dog grooming or beauty therapy. Our experienced team manages the entire process, including insulation, electrics, windows & doors, flooring, painting & decorating — delivering a complete, high-quality finish. Keep an eye on our social channels to watch this latest conversion take shape!

First fix electrics- Tunbridge Wells

Our ongoing project at an eight-bedroom property in Tunbridge Wells is progressing well. The team is currently installing the first fix electrics and has adapted seamlessly to some last-minute changes and requests from the client. Their flexibility and attention to detail are helping to keep the project on track and moving forward smoothly.

Electric Gate installation- Maidstone

JNS recently addressed an issue with a security gate where the original footings had been incorrectly installed. We excavated the area, installed proper footings, fully serviced the gate mechanisms, and reinstated the gate to ensure safe and reliable operation. A big thank you to Copper Jax and JEB Groundworks for their valuable assistance in completing this service efficiently.
